Virtual Journeys: Chinese Buddhist Art and Architecture in the Digital Era
Charles B. Wang Center Skylight Gallery
September 12 through December 15, 2018

The Charles B Wang center is opening a new exhibit for the public! We are launching the start of this semester's exhibit of Buddhist Art and Architecture with digital art in virtual reality. With the proliferation of technology, we are seeing development of art in this space and this exhibit highlights the effects of Virtual Reality on art, history and culture.

"Today, in the twilight of print, text is largely produced, transmitted, and stored digitally and, for better or worse, cultural heritage information is being digitized ever more comprehensively. In the field of Buddhist studies, texts were a natural starting point for digitization.” Dr. Luo

Please join us for the opening of the exhibit at 7:30pm on September 12th, 2018 in the Charles B. Wang Center at Stony Brook University. The opening will be open to students and the general public. Refreshments will be served.

About the Exhibit

Contributors: Dr. Di Luo (Wake Forest University), Dr. Wu-Wei Chen (NYU Shanghai), Dr. Jianwei Zhang (Peking University), Dr. Fletcher John Coleman (Harvard University), Dr. Changyu Diao (Zhejiang University), Dunhuang Academy, the Longmen Grottoes Research Institute, and the Yungang Grottoes Research Institute in China.

This exhibit is a joint effort by the Charles B Wang center and the China Center/Confucius Institute in China.

The Charles B Wang Center’s mission is to spread awareness and deeper understanding of Asian and Asian American arts and culture for all audiences.

The China Center/Confucius Institute in China’s mission is to strengthen Stony Brook University’s relationship with China in higher education.
